

Congratulations on acquiring your DayLite Window! It has designed and built to give you years of enjoyment. Below are some things you might need to know.

What is this hook?

This J hook is for hanging your window in drywall. It is an easy way to hang your window in seconds. It is rated for 100 pounds.

What is this strip around the perimeter of the back?

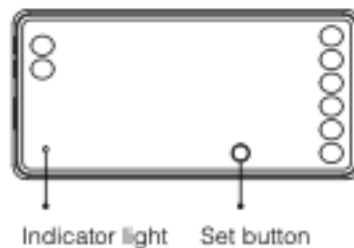

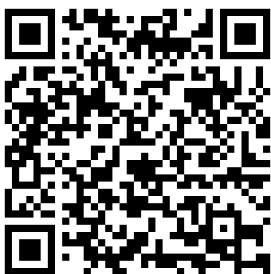

That is simply there to mitigate any light leakage that might occur.

You will need to download an app to connect to wifi.

You can use the Miboxer Smart app or the Smart Life App:

If you need to consult the manual, here is the link for the FUT035W used in your window light. The controller is located on the back of the window, and the instructions will give you syncing instructions

You can always contact us at info@day-lite if you have any questions, and please send pictures of you finished installation!
